Climate and Biodiversity Loss Risks Program

Feb. 17 – 21, 2025 Virtual, EST

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Climate change and biodiversity loss have been identified by most international supervisory standard setters as significant risks that supervisors must incorporate within their supervisory frameworks and practices. The Financial Stability Board states that "climate-related risks are far-reaching and differ from other risks to financial stability," with effects on the financial system that are "subject to substantial uncertainty and tail-risk."

This virtual, five-half day, cross-sectoral program examines the adaptation of supervision to climate change and biodiversity loss-related risks, micro- and macroprudential responses to these risks, and the consequences of these risks to the financial system, its stability, consumer protection, and financial inclusion. Insurance, bank, securities, and pension supervisors will learn how stress testing can be used to assess climate and biodiversity loss impacts, and how better risk management can mitigate the impact of climate shocks to the financial system.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

Through the use of interactive group exercises, upon completion, participants will understand the:

- Financial impacts of climate and biodiversity-related risks
- Importance of stress tests in financial assessments
- Risk management by financial institutions
- Use of advanced micro- and macroprudential responses
- Need to incorporate consumer protection and financial inclusion policies

METHODOLOGY

This course will be taught by Toronto Centre program leaders who have a wealth of highly relevant experience to share with participants to help them carry out their work in line with international good practices and to address challenges that they may encounter in their supervisory and regulatory work.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The program is designed for middle to senior-level supervisors and regulators with responsibilities in supervision of the banking, securities, insurance, or pensions sectors or managing financial stability and financial surveillance, as well as central bankers and staff of deposit insurance corporations and Ministry officials responsible for financial stability.

This is a mandatory Level 1 program for the Certified Financial Supervisor (CFS) designation, and is a required program for Toronto Centre's new three-program Climate Risk Certification (CRC). The program is also open to individuals not wishing to pursue either qualification.

QUIZZES AND EXAMS

Quizzes and an examination will be administered during the program. Daily multiple-choice quizzes test theoretical knowledge, while a final exam tests practical applications of the program content. Participants must pass the quiz and final exam in order to proceed along the CFS journey.

REQUIRED PRE-READING

Pre-reading will be required. Materials will be sent out to registered participants at least two weeks before the program starts.
